LAND 200 Topics in Landscape Theory and Garden Design

CSU Online | May 17 - July 11, 2021 (8 weeks) | 3 Credits
Instructor: Kelly Curl, kelly.curl@colostate.edu

COURSE DESCRIPTION
Topics in Landscape Theory and Garden Design provides students with topics of landscape theory and design principles in garden design through readings, videos, and lectures. Students will be engaged through online discussions and will record weekly exercises and course material with the development of a sketchbook and blog/website postings.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES
- Students will become accomplished in landscape history, theory and basic design strategies and processes.
- Students will develop a strong skillset for garden design at varying scales.
- Students will accomplish various visual communication tools and techniques.

Registration:
For CSU Online Students:
https://www.online.colostate.edu/courses/LAND/LAND200.dot
For main campus students:
https://ramweb.colostate.edu